CHAPTER L

able sort of humbug, anyhow." poston Dow threw his newspaper with a of your life, Mr Thurston Dow!

has and ripening fraits, which hung on the round earth. oft, summer wind; and all these were the latter.

az ands at the West had fallen to the orated the face.

solows of the pain trees-and, being signal of peaceful health.

a, and a mouth large and sharply pulse of Reckland social life.

a the afternoon, and soft, mel- gone over it.

"al him in its true features.

ing, and the baking fell on Dorothy." There was not one amongst Thurston Dow's you, I love you, I mean all those words emmore discovered the spring, and opened the spring, and opened the spring, and opened the spring who have meaner souls than animate these Tilere I have health, vouth, riches, fashionable high-bred acquaintances who body in their best and deepest sense. Charpainted savages! I have receiving that the heart of man would have made this avowal, and she did it ity Moss, will you be my wife?" and yet confound it! I sometimes with just the same simplicity that she would. Let me here do Thurston Dow the justice with eager curiosity, and read the last will bloom.

Automian.

VOL. 26--NO. 10. ST. JOHNSBURY, VT., FRIDAY, SEPT. 6, 1861.

M. PETTENGELL & Co., 119 Nassau st., New feel as though I was an unlucky dog, any- have said, "I was occupied with my music or to say, that so much of real feeling was en- and testament of his uncle, Richard Dow, da- "Mr Dow," said the minister's daughter,

"The best part of me is getting drowsier The cake, however, did credit to Dorothy, along the words, and there was a sudden pal- affirmed, that, being in full possession of all ago to-night, you asked me a question, which ed. On the other hand, the scope of the every day, and I've no purpose in life to stir and the parson laughingly assured his daugh- lor about his mouth. prices. All kinds of Papers and Cards me up to action, or to make me anything but ter that her training had not been bestowed. Charity Moss turned up her face to his, sufficient to himself, altered his mind, and repeated?" the luxurious idle dog that I am! in vain.

the soul had only been left out of it.

se statement : then he settled back in you are an old man. But what can a fellow half a dozen short walks together; yet I think no roses—not even carnations in her cheeks by stricken down by an attack of paralysis, "So I am: for I have now, what is above ten content to subside into an inglorious schioled easy chair, and looked out of do? I mean one that's afflicted with chron- the clergyman's daughter puzzled the rich —and there was something mournful in the which had totally eclipsed his reason. window with a kind of half-satiated, halfie laziness, and has the interest of a couple of man of Rockland just as much the last time steady eyes which her calm, alow voice conAnd then Thurston Dow remembered that are worth to me a thousand Rockland eshundred thousand dollars to spend annually. he saw her as she did the first. which his gaze could sweep, lay the that I should be better off if I had my own smile, flashing out from the pale gravity of end goodly lands of his possession-green fortune to carve out, and not an acre of land her face, with the same mingled simplicity and dd-pastures whose rich loam was in his mouth he must take his fate resigned his whole nature, there would be great dans no mortal on the face of the whole earth wors strive to attain our true ideal of man and ed thick with dark, waving grasses- iy: and if pluck and poverty usually walk by some sweet, subtle influence. of wheat and rye, whose gleaming locks hand in hand, why. I've no special desire to Charity Moss had never been in a city but "I have braced myself against your influence to Charity Moss had never been in a city but "You shall be my little teacher," gathering the fancy trades in all their various branches est grandfather, had purchased the land aim-I should really like to do some greater rich, and bore good fauit.

strength and energy, the asthetic, indolent of Rockland -Arthur's Home Magazine. t the land which had not been in their you're leading, my friend! I believe I'd bets but this was what Paul the Apostle meant "The religion that I believe in, is a name, part of his nature, shrank from the thought ter get married. That'll at least give me an when he wrote to the Corinthians, "The great a grace, a worship -not a living reality, to of going out into the struggle of life, and be-And then, walking up and down the room. Thurston Dow knew that the clergyman's soul; its sacrifices are to you words void and there went on a long, herce struggle in "thim by his Uncle Richard, an ec-high-horn, graceful, fascinating, they passed nations sat in her cheek when he came—they to your keeping. would bachelor. It had been supposed before him; but the noblest instincts of the had not dimmed or deepened when he left. "If ever I marry any man, it must be a live enough in the name to have triumphed over This last mentioned nephew had lived shadowy bands of hair, half brown and half soul of Thurston Dow a faint and vague sug- ligion, is, in the end, a factor. in a growd it might not have attracted you, ty, and he said to himself; in the life, for the two crothers of Riche prise and stimulate you the more you study will wake up the best and noblest part of me, wonder and numbing at an elect which any class, i) we may stell they had not been fairly it. And this still, sweet face, coming after into life and action. I love her childlike sim- woman might be proud of.

Thurston Dow. s man had managed to get all the Rocks was an acute analyzer of character, and the unto death of the shame and affections of life truthfully, torgive me constal there soon after he was mare at Rockland. The young man had met her wife." at her father's house when he returned the

- mother died before his remembrance, might almost fear she was fragile, if it had of the honeysuckles as they whispered to the am not a good enough man to be your husne was not twenty-one when his father not been for the small, bright carnation that night winds, this son only a few thousands with had just seen her twenty-third birthday when with its sweet smile, which touched on gravi-

Thurston met her. She puzzled him exceed- ty, shining betwixt its folds of hair-shadows are a year later the young man was sum- jugly at first, the quiet little lady! He knew of brown with lighter gold. count estate, with the solitary condition inward graciousness of soul, and all her ming, and I have been helping he work the should pass his summers in the old movements kept time to some harmony of butter." a. with unusual social gifts and graces, mose and simplicity about her. The eyes of for housework.

its subtle testimony in There was a little shadow of gravity—such embroidery. But though I was only sixteen its shadowy hair, like some marble bend out of each battery. It is also claimed that two to be full of disturbances of light which had somewhat stirred the sluggish symmetrically, rejoicingly, who does not work small, dark passage, back of the library, which

as ive and susceptible: but no indo- Parson Moss was a stately urbane gentleat luxury of life could erase the lines man of the old school-social and sympathe- write on the subject, for the benefit of your in the darkness for some matches, rememberthere by a character of innate force tie, the natural fire and vigor of his character sex." a little mellowed by the fifty years which had as the gaze of Thurston Dow dealy to his daughter, in some slight pause don't, his expression of indifference of his brisk conversation with his guest, lade?

another, cut after the same pattern-boating, young man to himself as he left the parson- her eyes lifted to and fro, into light and sha- Andrew Dow. riding, hunting, eating and sleeping-a most age. And when Thurston Dow said a thing dow. For a moment she was steady, but undelicious sort of a life for a human animal, if he meant it. He did know more of Charity der her breath.

little sharper spice of pleasure-dissipation excuses to call at the parsonage-now to car- you, before I answer?" Nell, make the best of it; this life's a is the better word; races and clubs, parties ry the young lady a volume of poems, and "Charity Moss, will you be my wife?" theaters, operas—that's a condensed history now some early fruits from his grounds, or She rose up, and walked twice rapidly a- suddenly killed, three day's after his uncle's "You are a far richer man to me than you they have turned defeat into victory. It may rare flowers from his conservatory.

dignity of manner.

ver and gold were shaken to and fee in win the former by intimate acquaintance with twice in her life. Newport and Saratoga ence from the first hour that I met you. Mr moment wrap it up in its flaming life, and her closer to his heart. were words as void and unsuggestive to her Dow, because I felt that it must be evil over drop it in blackened dust on his hands. ed with homely, ample farm-houses, "Still I want to be more of a man than I as Egyptian hieroglyphics, but she had read me-for I saw that the great aim of your life. He remembered, too, that his real right to swered Charity Moss. opewin barns; and these were occupied am-not to squander away my youth after much, and studied wide and deep for a girl was esthetic enjoyment; and this, adorn it the Rockland lands was better than his coustenants of Thurston Dow; for Aaron, this fashion. I want to have some work and of her wears, and the soil of her mind was with what grace of life, or beauty of words, in's, for his father had been far the more next day, Thurston Dow went out into the ... Vast Indies to Thurston's father, who dergymen of the North Presbyterian Church This very right I will ask her to be my his,

a property in the Tropies had never been call of the paster: and he had been stimulaThe astral lamp was just lighted in the angered—and yet, he level (harry Moss ten and the had been stimulaThe astral lamp was just lighted in the angered—and yet, he levely and the latter of the paster:

The astral lamp was just lighted in the angered—and yet, he levely and the latter of the paster:

The astral lamp was just lighted in the angered—and yet, he levely and the latter of the paster:

The astral lamp was just lighted in the angered—and yet, he levely and the latter of the paster of the productive or available property, and ted and impressed on that first interview. Thurston's life had slipped across its Charity Moss was utterly unlike any wes lay in a kind of haze of moonlight, while and all these feelings struggled in his tenes. earth birthday, he was sent back to A- man he had ever met-so delicately organize through the open windows came bursts, of as he said cone of the tropical islands, in the bloomed in her cheek, and set there their own Thurston Dow sat there about five minutes, planged in dreams, when his hostess entered -1 am not a good enough woman to be me and studious, with no taste for buse. She was older than she appeared, for she the room with her light step, and her face all the marks of high breeding and social cul- Excuse me for detaining you, Mr Dow," Charaty?" ment there, to his unspeakable sur- tivation, but somehow the whole manner of said the voice, that was like a tune set to the t at he was appointed sole heir to the Charity Moss seemed the unfolding of some face, but Dorothy is not quite well this eye. his.

spirit. Her father did not present himself "You are one of the Fledas and Faiths," Moss,"-his better nature triumphing over notion Dow's character combined a good until his guest had been sented some mine said the young man looking curiously and larger and wounded vanity. "I shall not love as frequently accompanies much thoughtful- then, I was old enough to see the sudden re- of a brown cloud. as frequently accompanies much thoughtfur- then, I was one enough to see the sudden re- of a blown cloud.

ne sat in the window that summer af- ness, on the sweet face; and yet, on occasion, sponsibility which had fallen on my shoulSo Thurston Dow looked on it a moment, half fancied he had gone back to the palmand the army of the Southern rebels as a when properly arranged, will protect 2000 a, in his crimsoned dressing-gown and it would bloom out into sweet, running ders, and brave enough not to shirk it. So and was gone. and in his crimsoned dressing-gown and it would bloom out into sweet, running ders, and orave enough not to shirk it. So and was gone, and slippers, Thurston 1) w looked very smiles, that made the mouth not small but I went at my work, and now I have grown to. That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li
That night he walked up and down his li-

love it, and I think that any woman who does brary, until after midnight, with those rapid, struck his ear, and the next moment he a summer's day against overwhelming odds, constant and impregnable metallic breast-You would have known at The talk of the young people went right not do this, has lost one of the greatest prive nervous strides, which usually accompany I glance that the resthetic element was and left, glancing first, as was proper and in- ileges and enjoyments of womanhood. Bak- stirred, agitated mood. What went on in single in him, constitutionally and by troductory, on the weather, on the town, and ing, sweeping, dusting, I think they idealize the young man's soul, what new aims and the parish; and when the minister entered. life. We enjoy its poetry better for this back purposes were roused and developed in his er tall nor short, with supple, with a statement which excused his tardiness, ground of practicality. It is the only way to heart, was known only to Him who readeth t limbs, and rapid, graceful move- that he was just finishing his Wednesday e- save a woman from that great range of ner- the heart of man, and understandeth our His features were hold and thin, vening lecture, his guest and his daughter your diseases to which so many fall victims, thoughts afar off. a las figure, the complexion colorless were discussing the carrying away of the old It is God's ordination, and I do not believe Long after midnight, Thurston Dow seiztacker, healthful olive, the eye of a turnpike bridge and the saw mill, an event any woman can live her complete, bravely, ed a lamp and started for his room. In a with her hands and muscles."

"Not a bit of it. You have converted me great-great grandfather had brought from n was disputed by one soft- "won't you bring us some cake and marma- to your theory, as I am sure any man would England to the colonies.

and the small carnations in her cheeks, broa- bequeathed the whole of his real estate to "You may." "One day here goes over my head just like "I will know more of that girl," said the dened and blossomed into vivid crimson, and Edward, only son of his deceased brother, "Well, then, I will be your wife." and she means. A defeat of the North shuts the cross the room, and then she same and stood funeral, and that a week subsequently to this were to me then, Thurston Dow." Las he made this laconic and compre the will be pleasant to look back upon when Twice he took her to ride, and they had still before her guest; and now, there were latter casualty, the steward had been sudden.

'Then, it is only varid in the city with a For the next two months he found frequent so that I may be certain that I understood steward.

He drew the girl to his heart. firmed. "I cannot be what you have asked that little sheet of paper swept away from his tates!"

"Ruin you-I don't understand !" in me, because our views and aims in life are the world. And he remembered also that lify in his hair.

ger of your bringing me down to yours. ted of its existence, and that the small flame womanhood."

you may, is really—selfishness, fallure.

test of these is Charity." you. Its love has never penetrated your coming the architect of his own fortunes.

for I believe that there was innate nobleness is older nephew, who was now residing man turned away from them all; and at last. But that day walking to and fro in the fact one, because that I this temptation, but I know that her sweet ion, when the fate of an empire trembled in itself in a trying crisis like the present be-West, would be the heir of Richard a fair, pale face, its oval outline broken by ding light of his library, there came over the believe all life and love without Christman resolutions and the proud heart of England comes manifest, the more ready are the peovation, to say nothing of those things where ment and there was the looked a man set t with in the settlement of their father's that vision of brilliant and beautiful women, plicity, her womanly dignity. Altogether, "Do you think me insensible to these night what he had not done for years, knelt allens, if a tone of sneering pity or of conand a coldness had always existed be- was the only one which touched the heart of she is a sweet, dainty, noble-hearted little things because I make the others of chiefest down by his hedside, and prayed. creature, whose very presence makes the air value? You see I cannot do otherwise; and The next day he was given runner said he it was instantly covered with shame and re- which its pernicious currency—based upon He had seen it but a few times, still be fresher and stronger about me. I am sick if I have spoken plainly, because simply, had subdenly taken it into his head to make probation by nobler voices. Over the nar-, southern state stocks—had plunged it.—

a tour of the West. the party into his own hands, while some voice, the words, the movements, had corrob- --of women. Charity Moss has more of -- She paused at last, and stood quiet before these. She is the only whom I could take him- her face in a kind of white radianceas of the brothers, and some land. Charity Moss was the only daughter of the into my heart, and lock the door upon her, her still, large, luminous eyes searching into Thurston Dow did not speak for the space of half a minute he was touched, convicted. From of amethyst or topaz in the rich dead history shudders to recall, your wife, because I could not resist your influence over me, were it to do me harm."

Then Thurston Dow rose up and said: "Will you let me take your hand a moment. land in Rockland belonged to him.

this night-for every word of it. Charity commence business, a with all classes of men and women; all varieties of dark brown, look up at him and evidently answering the question more shining face; it bent on him a long, wistful, the shadowy paths, as though he was in some with a quiet carnestness and sincerity, which to herself than him. "When mamma left us, yearning gaze. Thurston Dow knew that it strange had of each antment. The large, old mand, and yet with a latent force of will fairly puzzled him. She was thoroughly I had scarcely lifted my finger to do a thing, said to him - what her hips would not -- a hair gray-stone house rose picturesque and ghost-" to its strong lines about his mouth, calm, self-poised, yet he could not detect and hated work as profoundly as the finest "might have been," contesting with a half by through the trees in the distance—and which its strong lines about his mouth, caim, self-poised, yet he could not detect and hated work as proloungly as the finest tingent have been, confessing with the former owner walked amid the dead shadtherefore most responsible of English jour- teet the gunners, and twenty men in the rear was little used, a draught of air caught the "What an eloquent treatise you could light and extinguished it. He fumbled round ing having hastily replaced some several "Her quick, exultant, amused laugh, which weeks before in one of the compartments of always lifted the enwrapped countenance into an old fashioned mahogany secretaire, which ight in the sanshine lay over the "Charity," said the clergyman, turning sud- sudden light, answered him, "You are making had stood in the passage for years, and which was one of the few articles of furniture his

be. I am going to give you, now, the strongAnd searching in the darkness, the hand dilated and expanded—a great, excellent lie opinion of England is so often credited by their utter desperation, intend to let loose up and walked across his She rose up quietly, but a little smile just est possible proof of it. I came here to-night of Thurston Dow fell upon the wrong drawer thought filled and flooded the girl's face. and the deeper and better part of his flashed out of the sweet gravity of her face; with that settled purpose, and if I perform it and he felt a secret spring yield to his pres-"I'm not responsible for the cake this time, abruptly, it is because I honor you too much sure. This aroused his curiosity, and at last all this property to your cousin making no Nor are these opinions, even in their own men, and helpless women and children. Yet Is a like selfish, aimless, sensuous life, as I had all the fine things to iron this morn- to believe that a lover's flatteries would weigh he succeeded in finding the matches and stri- reservation to yourself?" anything with you, and that when I say to king a light. After some difficulty he once "It is true."

sheet of paper, and the young man opened it and the carnation had deepened into crimson to the cause of the South a legitimacy which moment, his heart throbbed fast.

she said, giving him her hand.

and drawing close to her.

tate to your cousin?"

leould not let you go without seeing you,'

"It was very kind in you to come here to

"I have come to ask if it is true, what we have heard, that you have discovered the lost will made by your uncle, hidden in an me now, Charity," keeping the small hand, crossed his lips:

"Charity Moss !"

· HAPTICK III.

listed in this question, that his voice shook ted two days before his death; and this will with a flutter in her voice, "three months are not so considerable as was at first reporthis ...culties, he had for reasons good and I wish to know whether I may now consider war is infinitely enlarged. And the protrac-placed her other hand in his.

not worth a dollar in the world."

lawyer had been thrown by his horse, and lips.

all price or naming. O, Charity Moss, you peace."

orth, south, cast, west-to the utmost Sometimes I think this is a curse to me, and She met him always with the same sweet me, Mr Dow, because it would rule me." possession the fair and beautiful possessions, "I shall not be afraid to trust you now, which for four years he had called his own Thurston," said the girl, half an hour later;

"No; I am going to explain. It would ru- and that this sheet cast him a poor man upon and the flutter of her small hand was like a But if a man's born with a silver spoon Still, every time he met her it seemed that so wide apart, and because, with my sensitive, no eyes had seen that will but his own—that "You will do me good, and we'll together som who swoons from some terrible danger.

"You shall be the teacher of both," an- economy, those engaged in them will turn to wronged of the two brothers, in the settling world, but the love and the prayers of a true of military supplies. The New York Eveas nules around his old gray-stone Engood than putting my name to a score of sub

But one flower blossomed in her heart "You have no high redeeming purpose in of the estate, and his pride revolted somewhat and noble woman followed him; and in one "You have no high redeeming purpose in of the estate, and his pride revolted somewhat and noble woman followed him; and in one emested, near Kuckland, when Masseription lists-for missionaries and meeting which shed a sweet and subtle influence life. With all your cultivation, with all your cultivation, with all your cultivation with all your cultivation with all your cultivation with all your cultivation with all your cultivation. the was a colory; and the estate had houses, and ragged children, and reform so through her whole life. Alas! Thurston generous instincts, with all I have seen in when he had so long been accounted a rich wife, Charity, the daughter of Reverend Aaaled to his beirs, undisputed and un can on his twenty-second birthday, while the light of the summer day faded un- daughter was fond of his society, but beyond unsuggestive; and because there is a part of the soul of Thurston Dow. I do not believe position of the London Daily News, in its heavy supplies imparts new life to our towns or he had graduated at college; and heeded after him. Thurston Dow thought of the simple rights and courtesies of a friend, my nature that answers to the laxurious, as that the thought of Charity Moss saved him, comments upon the Bull Run battle. The and cities. In fact there is not even a village held it for years. The estate had all the women of his acquaintance—beautiful, he was assured of nothing. The bright car- thetic part of yours, I dare not trust myself for I believe that innate nobleness saved him, following is the principal part of this sensi- but must sooner or later feel the immense like and timely articles her shadowy hair, and seemed looking at him was shaken with anguish, the sympathy of ple to turn to the best account whatever conand the state of a calamity in the face shore not gestion of what a true, absorbing, self-sacri

A True Voice from England.

"I am grateful for the honor your chart with its calin, steading, searching gaze; and Europe, in the presence of a calamity in tributes to the general welfare. This revival wan as case, and I know immeasurably far I am then at last Thurston. Dow folded up the which the whole of Christendom seemed to eftrade is the next best thing to a victory to this wishes, and consequently been that seemed to suffuse and fill it; and though ity in her simplicity, her girlishness and parts, your inferior in social and intellegrand (a.t. sheet, as I leid it back in the secret comparts partake, was all but universally expressed.— our arms, and is one of the many evidences Ancient counties, foreign jealousies, held which the banks have that their striking then Dow had seen his nucle but a few still it was one of those faces that always sur-So he went up to his room and did that generals graf and hope. Among foes and soundness. We are again near another ing fortunes with that fraternal interest which section for articles of immediate consumption. Three menths hall passed, and the year faint and few indeed were the mutterings of creasing under the quick sale of its products; was in the still magnificence of September. - unmanly and malignant exultation at the and those merchants who have been fortu-There had been no trusts -there was no tragic vicissitudes of a mortal struggle which nate enough to weather the storm, have prom-part of whal, with its sweet delicious languor, lantic it was not mere interest that was felt was that dream of the tropics, which visits for England at that terrible moment, or com- Rockford (Ill.) Republican of this week has New England every autumn. Thurston Daw mon human sympathy; it is but the simple this discription of what appears to be a most man he had ever met—so deficately organize through the open windows came bursts, of ed, so slight of form, so tair of face, that one sweet, subtle fragrances from the yellow lips of the last time. The next day this discription of what appears to be a most truth to say that the heroes and the victims the discription of what appears to be a most truth to say that the heroes and the victims the discription of destruction, called Hillis's accomere, for the last time. The next day of Lacknow and Cawapore were honored Revolving Rifle Battery, invented by Wilhe was to leave to go out into the world, and lamented by the people of the United liam D. Hillis of that city : "The would be an equally tree proposition and take his place among the small swimmers. States, and the trials and exploits of English "The barrels of this battery are placed in in the hurrying tide of life. He had come courage and endurance treasured up as the a solid metallic circular plate, at each revoluimmortal part of an indivisible inheritance of tion of which the guns are loaded and dised all his work. He had left the will with of blood, language and renown. And yet charged toward any point desired by the rehis cousin, and told him that every foot of there were voices of hate, envy and savage volving motion of the plate. It is claimed by jay to break the resolute stillness of the na- the inventor that a battery of this kind five Edward Dowhall behaved very generously, tional sorrow, and to insult the sympathies feet in diameter will discharge 1000 Minie She placed her two small fluttering hands in and had even offered to share the estate with of Christian Enrope. Abroad, and even at balls weighing one ounce each per minute, his coasin: but the latter would only accept home. there were 'Sepoy' journals, and with the same power and range of the "I thank you for what you have said to me the loan of a few thousands, with which to which recounted with undisguised satisfaction Minie rifle—thus making an aggregate of the harrors of the mutiny and frantically 60,000 balls per hour-more balls probably The world knew all the facts now, and foretold the end of British rule in than would be fired by a thousand men in an that Thurston How was a poor man. It was India. These 'Sepoy' journals, however, active engagement during the same time in strong antitheses—he was studious and utes, yet the girl was by no means fluttered fourly on the girl, as she sat down in her blue that woman less, who has had the courage so the determined agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and womaned agond until his guest had been seated some mine said the young man looking curiously and anger and young man looking curiously and anger and young man looking curiously and young man looking curiously and young man looking curiously and young man look strong antitheses—he was studious and utes, yet the girl was by no means fluttered fondly on the girl, as she sat down in her blue that woman ices, who has had the courage so like fluttering breaths. The moonlight lay their ferocious taunts and sinfster predictions weapon of war is mounted upon wheels, and and impossively generous, or embarrassed by the presence of the genties musin dress beside him, a real little houses to speak to me: There was a strange mingling of reschool divinity, with a natural love and skill day I shall be more worthy to ask you the many presence of the genties musin dress beside him, a real little houses to speak to me: There was a strange mingling of reschool divinity, with a natural love and skill day I shall be more worthy to ask you the many presence of the genties musin dress beside him, a real little houses to speak to me: The was a strange mingling of reschool divinity, with a natural love and skill day I shall be more worthy to ask you the many presence of the genties musin dress beside him, a real little houses to speak to me: The was a strange mingling of reschool divinity, with a natural love and skill day I shall be more worthy to ask you the many presence of the genties musin dress beside him, a real little house. The was a strange mingling of reschool divinity, with a natural love and skill day I shall be more worthy to ask you the many presence of the genties. The was appalling, but it was more tolerable than is protected by a metallic shield of sufficient very air was steeped in still, delicious lan-insult and outrage disguised in protesting strength and so arranged as to turn or ward remembered that the most powerful, and and infantry, and so constructed as to proout into sudden floats of silver light, and he battle between the army of the United States hundred of these batteries, with their sheilds, trees and orange-groves of his childhood.- loss of all, 'even of military honor,' to citizen infantry, forming for them, in any part of caught the gleam of a white figure among for a cause as sacred as law and order, as work, and affording perfect security to an enprecious as national liberty and unity. Our camped army against surprise. The battery It came toward him; Thurston Dow was anything but a superstitious man-but, for a sions of a border raid or a barbarous brawl. The next moment, a name unconsiously But, as this is impossible, it degrades a war from which anarchy and slavery, or freedom | Southern rebels, Albert G. Pike, (a renegade "They told me I should find you here, and purified and ordered anew for higher purpo- Northerner.) has been negotiating treaties of ses, must spring to the proportions of a alliance with the Creek and Camanche Indisenseless and bloody strife.' This is not ans-fit allies of a slave oligarchy. The Heonly to caricature living facts; it is to give lena (Ark.) Shield of the 10th inst. mentions at lie to history. Civil war it was that that a large body of Indian warriers are almade the ancestors of the men who fought at ready in the field, destined for Missouri. It Bull Run grout and free; though, no doubt, says: "These Indians were armed with rifle, there were disinterested persons in those days butcher knife, and tomahawk, and had their who condemned the senseless and bloody faces painted one-half red and the other strife' by which our forefathers dearly pur- black." ld secretaire and that this will give your eschased at the cost of their lives all that their descendants now enjoy.

The large, luminous eyes, fastened on his The cynical selfishness with which the pub- knife." It would seem that the rebels, in foreigners has never found a more exalted upon our frontier settlements bands of mersense, discerning or acute. It was to be ex- they appeal for sympathy to a civilized pected that a defeat of the federal army world, and they obtain sympathy from men no reasoning could ever gain for it. Yet already it is clear that the results of the action of the 21st were not so disastrous to the federal army as to forbid altogether a southern advance this year.

The victory of the southern army was due no doubt to superior skill in its leaders, but the choice of a defensive position and the arrival of timely reinforcements must be taken into account on the same side; and the 'pan-WHOLE NO. 1258. ic' that decided the issue of the fight is an incident not unparalled in the military annals of European powers. The losses both in men and material of the Federalist forces tion of the contest is all in favor of those door to compromise, or to acquiescence in any terms the South can offer. The union is nesses to this instrument-one was that of "Charity Moss, I was a rich man when you bound to conquer now. The spirit of New "Will you say those words again, Mr Dow, Richard Dow's lawyer, and the other his refused me three months ago! to-night I am England and the Northwest will rise to the occasion; and we of the old race, tried and And the young man remembered that the A proud, tender smile, flashed through her strengthened by many reverses, shall not be surprised if our kinsmen never rest until be that the triumph of the cause of freedom

Revival of Business.

The business of the loyal states is beginning to recover from the stagnation into which it was sunk by the rebelion, like a per-The consumption of the necessaries of life must go on in war as well as peace ; and if are curtailed by the pruning-knife of enforced other pursuits with the versatility of the openings in the vastly increased manufacture

"The wants of the government in the way of clothing, provisions, munitions of war, &c., are making a decided impression upon New England, and many of the mills of that sec tion are resuming full time. The same may be said of the various manufactories of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania The telegraph has recorded the friendly and the providing and handling of these expenditures of the government; for the "During the ageny of our Indian rebell, more the ability of the country to maintain yied with the nearest and dearest friends in means of preserving their own safety and temptions regret larred upon the public ear, just recovering from the depression into row seas a gallant people watched our vary. There is now a very fair demand from that brave men feel in the actions of the brave; The paying ability of the West is steadily inise of an active business in September and

a. with massard social gifts and graces, pose and simplicity about her. The eyes of for housework.

"Stimulating regretful amazement and off all projectiles except cannon balls, grape and canister included. This shield is armed When the day of trial and trouble comes on the upper edge with formidable knives, again for England, we trust it may not be calculated to resist the charges of cavalry cotemporary would fain, it should seem, en- is of comparatively light construction, and deavor to reduce the conflict to the dimen- easily conveyed from one point to another."

SAVAGE ALLIES. A commissioner from the

The "butcher-knife" here mentioned is a slight refinement upon the term "scalping

In time of war remember the-printer.